General Information

Special Guest Speaker

We are honored to have Roger Atkinson, distinguished Professor of Atmospheric Chemistry, as our special guest speaker. Dr. Atkinson has recently received the Faculty Research Lecturer 2006 award, the highest honor the Academic Senate of the University of California, Riverside can bestow on a faculty member. Dr. Atkinson is an internationally recognized leader in the study of gas-phase reactions of organic compounds in the atmosphere. Over the years, Dr. Atkinson has received numerous awards for his research on atmospheric sciences, his many publications, and for his work on the formation of photochemical air pollution, to name a few....
